PRINTERS' BALL IS MORE THAN AN ANNUAL SOCIAL AFFAIR

After weeks of untiring preparation everything is in readiness for the annual ball of Phoenix Typographical Union No. 352, to be held this evening in Patrick Hall. Although A. H. Tobben, Thomas Adams and Harry Broderick were named as the committee on arrangements and have given unselfishly of their time to perfecting the details of the ball, every member of the Phoenix local also has assisted in every way possible, with the sole end in view of making the 1914 affair the most successful, socially and financially, ever held under the auspices of the local organization.

The "campaign" for the ball has been one of the most unique ever carried out. From ocean to ocean, and from the gulf to and across the great lakes, the news has been heralded that Phoenix Typographical

NEW OUTDOOR FUN PARK IS BEING BUILT

Riverside Is Name; Has Chain of Swimming Pools, Bath Houses, Ball Park and Everything for the Summer Picnicer

Riverside Park, the new amusement resort now being constructed near the Center street bridge, is the scene of a great deal of activity this week. A large force of men and teams has been at work under the supervision of John Reilly, excavating and grading for the first of the large open air pools being constructed, cutting brush, cleaning up and making other improvements.

The excavation for the first pool was completed yesterday and the work of lining the pool with rock from the river will be started the coming week. The first pool is one hundred and sixty feet long and one hundred feet wide, set in the center of a large natural grove of cottonwood and willows, furnishing an abundance of shade and making one of the most attractive places possible to be found for a natural pool.

The pool is eight feet deep on one side and two feet on the other, with a sloping sandy beach arranged on the shallow side for the benefit of children and others who wish to sun themselves and play around in the sand after bathing, while the deep side will be arranged for diving and other aquatic sports.

The water will come into the pool at the upper end from an immense artificial spring and over a waterfall—over one million gallons a day splashing over the rocks and keeping the pool fresh and clean. At the lower end the water will run out over a second waterfall and cascade into two shallow pools for children, separated by a beautiful wooded island, which will be further improved with trees, vines and flowers, forming the central setting of a unique rustic refreshment resort surrounding the island.

Table will be arranged under the trees on either bank facing the island and the running water with the cascade falls at one end, making an unusually attractive place for those who wish refreshments.

Part of the tract will be devoted to a baseball field, it is learned. Homer King has contracted to purchase the land in Grant park and construct a real field for the baseball clubs. No action will be taken on this matter until the spring of 1915, when baseball as well as everything else connected with the amusement game will be in better shape.

On the north bank, under the trees, a large bath house with dressing rooms will be constructed, provided with eighty individual dressing rooms of the most modern kind, and also a large locker room with 150 lockers. Shower baths and other conveniences will be provided and rubble and concrete walks surrounding the pool. The pool will be the largest open air pool in the southwest, and it is the intention of the management to make the place clean, modern and convenient.

Immediately above the lower pool is a long natural basin about six hundred feet long and fifty to one hundred feet wide, which will be improved and arranged for swimming races, boating and other amusements. Swings, tables, benches and other conveniences for picnickers will be arranged at the numerous shady places on the grounds so that people can bring their families and spend the day enjoying all sorts of outdoor pleasures and rustic scenes—and all within five minutes' ride of the center of Phoenix. As soon as the pool and bath house are finished, a dancing pavilion, merry-go-round and other amusements will be provided and everything possible done to make the park a place where men, women and children can enjoy a variety of clean outdoor amusements.

DECORATION OF CARS IS URGED

Additional Prizes Are Offered for Best Decorated Autos and Finest Displays in Windows During Elk Convention

With the first day of the third annual session of the Arizona State Elks' Reunion association only a short time off, the various committees are busily engaged in the completion of final arrangements. In this connection announcement was made yesterday that several special prizes are to be offered for decorations, particularly for those of windows of stores, interior and exterior decorations and the decorations of automobiles taking part in the big parade. For the best decorated store window two prizes of $50 and $25 respectively will be offered.

citizen, whether he belongs to the Elks or not.
The problem of caring for the great number of visitors is in the hands of Frank E. Leeper, chairman of the hotel and rooms committee. Those desiring rooms engaged for them are instructed to communicate with Elks Leeper, care of the Elks' club, or to address a letter to the steward of the club. These having rooms available for the days of the sessions of the association should also list them with Leeper.

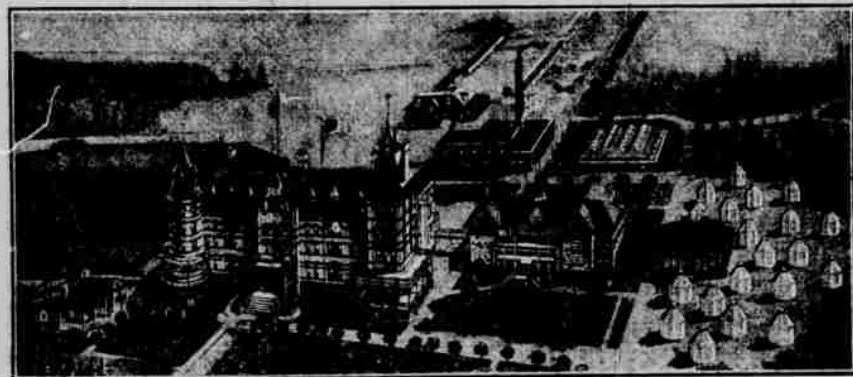

Charles K. Pishon, chairman of the publicity committee will today send out personal letters to all auto dealers requesting participation in the big parade and urging the decoration of all cars. The full program of the proceedings and the prizes to be offered has been printed previously in The Republican.

UNION PRINTERS' HOME COLORADO SPRINGS

union, ignoring the superstition attaching to the thirteenth of the month, and eschewing the accepted theory that Monday is not upon the social calendar, long ago decided to hold its ball upon Monday, April 13. And from as far away as Toronto, Montreal, Boston, New York and other remote cities, substantial assistance has come in the effort to swell the proceeds of the 1914 ball to a handsome figure.

Some weeks ago, as announced exclusively in The Republican, the committee addressed circular letters to practically all the typographical locals in this country and Canada. In each instance tickets were enclosed with the request that effort be made to dispose of them. The object of the proceeds, the care of indigent sick printers, who come to Arizona, was clearly set forth in the music for the dreamy waltzes, the pleasing two-steps and the extra numbers. The grand march will begin at 9 o'clock sharp.

The work of the Phoenix local is known all over the country. Many a printer has come to Arizona seeking health. In ill health and unable to work, some have been upon the verge of becoming public charges. But the Phoenix local has taken them up, given them shelter and medical attention, sometimes being rewarded by the satisfaction of seeing a fellow craftsman restored to health or in being able to administer to the last needs of a departed one.

The idea of extending local aid came largely through the excellent work that is being accomplished in the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs. This wonderful institution, while primarily a home for printers throughout the country, so that, when circumstances require a printer to take up his abode in the Home, he does it with the assurance that there is no charity being extended and that he really is receiving only that for which he already has paid and to which he is fully entitled.

Although the Phoenix local maintains no home or hospital, yet in proportion to its size and membership its work is quite as broad and effective as that of the Colorado Springs institution, the support of which is drawn from the printers all over the United States and Canada. And the excellent work in Phoenix is made possible through the holding of the patronage and financial aid of merchants and citizens in every walk of life.

FIRST METHODIST IS FAST GROWING CHURCH

Membership Leaps From 350 to 780 Since Dr. Harker Took Hold Two Years Ago

With the addition of 129 members in a special church-joining service yesterday, the total membership of the First Methodist church has leaped to 780, making it the fastest growing church in the city.

Records for increased membership in the First Methodist church have been making since the coming of Rev. Ray C. Harker two years ago. From 350 to 780 is the jump in that time. One hundred and fifteen have become members since the first of October, and prior to that 401 joined. The Sunday school has grown steadily. A record crowd of 482 attended yesterday.
